GREAT

VARIETY

AT

GEORGE DEWALD

& CO.

Cor. Calhoun & Columbia

An eccentric North Carolinian forty-five years ago married and moved into a log house not far from Danbury. The house had one room down stairs in which were two holes, 8x10, for windows, and a big fireplace. When he built a fire in the new home he said that as long as he lived the hearthstone should never grow cold, and up to date it hasn't—the fire in the fireplace has never gone out. Meanwhile the man has never slept from home for a single night; has never tasted food from any table than his own; has never used a particle of oil or a single candle to light his dwelling; has been married three times; has begotten fourteen children, all of whom are living, and all but three married; has become a great-grandfather, and now is in vigorous health.

FOUR O'CLOCK P. M.

E. L. HARPER.

The Criminal Case Against the Fidelity National Banker Begins at Cincinnati This Morning.

Cincinnati, Nov. 29.—The legal investigation into the great Fidelity National bank failure, so far as it can be made in a criminal trial, began this morning at 10 o'clock in the United States court room, when the case of E. L. Harper was called. Judge George R. Sage occupied the bench alone, Judge Jackson's health not being sufficient to justify him in undertaking any more labor than must be done.

The court room was crowded before the time for the opening of court. The large space set apart for the court, its officers, the parties and their attorneys, the bar and the press was also fully occupied. Shortly before 10 the distinguished looking defendant, Mr. E. L. Harper, appeared in custody of the United States marshal, and took his seat beside his counsel, Judge M. F. Wilson and C. H. Blackburn. Next to him sat his faithful wife. Beside her sat Miss Mathews, her sister.

Harper's appearance was not materially changed since June last, when he sat at his desk in the luxurious office of his great bank. Across the table were the government counsel, District Attorney W. B. Burnet and his two assistants, J. E. Bruce and Henry Hooper. A woman sat in front of the judge's desk to take the official report in shorthand. When the case was called Mr. Harper announced that he was ready.

The arraignment was proceeded by the reading of the substance of the long indictment, to which the defendant pleaded not guilty. Then the work of selecting the jury began. The first man called was Daniel Scott. He said he had made up his mind and did not believe he could give an impartial verdict upon the testimony. He was excused by the court. A large panel is present from which to select the the jury.

Paul Wolf, the young man who was arrested for threatening to blow up State's Attorney Grinnell with a bomb, was fined $50 and put under bonds to keep the peace.

Indicted For Manslaughter.

Valparaiso, Nov. 29.—After investigating the Kouts disaster on the Chicago and Atlantic road, the grand jury returned two sealed indictments. Sheriff Thomas has made one arrest—John B. Park, conductor of the passenger train. He was indicted for involuntary manslaughter. James R. Malone, a wealthy farmer of Boone Grove, went on his bond for $5,000. The case will be called December 27 in the Porter circuit court. Probably this indictment will be quashed. The grand jury examined fourteen witnesses in this case. The other arrest will be made soon. It has been said that the train despatcher was not indicted. Many think he was more guilty than Park. The latter's indictment will prove a surprise to many.

A Rich Mine.

Galena, Ill., Nov. 29.—One of the richest leads of pure Galena ore ever discovered in southern Wisconsin has just been struck at Jordan Center, near Monroe county, Wis. In the first three days ten thousand pounds of mineral ore was taken out, including one chunk weighing 1,500 pounds. A vast amount of ore is in sight and the fortunes of the owners, two men who have heretofore been poor, are fully assured.

A Colored Man's Gift.

Xenia, Ohio, Nov. 29.—M. Gaunt, a wealthy colored resident of this county, deeded his property, valued at $30,000, to the Wilberforce university, the leading colored college in the world.

Jacob Sharp.

Albany, Nov. 29.—The court of appeals reversed the decision of the court in the Jacob Sharp case, and ordered a new trial.

The Weather.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Indiana, fair weather, slowly rising temperature.

TELEGRAMS CUT SHORT.

The president to-day appointed James B. Chess, of Indiana, minister at Durango, Mex.

Gustave Nells was hanged by negroes at Oakland, Fla., last night.

A reward of $10,000 for Eraclio Banai, a murderous Mexican bandit.

The vote in Virginia at the recent election was, democrats 119,806; republicans, 119,380; democratic majority, 428.

Lord Hartington was hissed and cheered on his arrival at London to-day.

John B. Laing & Co., dry goods merchants at London, Ont., failed to-day $100,000.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—Wheat, firmer, at 75½c. Corn, stronger, at 47½c. Oats, firm, at 22½c. Rye, 55c. Barley, 75c. Prime Timothy, $2.21. Flaxseed, quiet. Whisky, $1.10. Pork, stronger, January, $14.60. Lard, steady, at $7.15 January, short ribs, $7.37½.

In the Rockhill ditch case, appealed from the county commissioners, the appeal was dismissed and returned to the commissioners for adjustment by Judge O'Rourke.

THE ANARCHISTS.

They Prepare An Incendiary Circular For Distribution Among the Workingmen.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—The Anarchists of this city have prepared a circular for distribution among the workingmen. It begins thus:

"FIGHT MOTTO!"

"Rulers we detest, freedom we request; to be equals we aspire, we will win or expire."

In the course of a conversation between John Swinton and Karl Marx, which took place shortly before the latter's death, Swinton asked Marx: 'What will the future bring?' Short, but mealing, was the answer. The great social philosopher answered it with but one short word, yet a word expressing very much. The answer was 'fight.' How clearly Marx could look into the future. Yes, fight and struggle. Even if there are some optimists in our ranks, the majority of our comrades are convinced that it will take hard fighting to gain the final aim which the thinking prelateral of all countries, with untiring fervor, is now struggling to reach. The picket skirmishing which has been done during the last few years in Europe, as well as in America, in the war for the erection and institution of free society proves that there is no use in talking about a political solution of this question."

HOOSIER CRUELTY.

The Management of the Woman's Reformatry About as Bad as the Rest of Them.

Indianapolis, Nov. 29.—The governor has completed the investigation of the woman's state reformatory. He found that the managers were anxious to dictate the method of investigation, and so he dismissed them and took the testimony privately, the result of which was the discovery of proof of abusive treatment.

Among other things the fact was made clear that girls were tied up and whipped across the bare back until the skin was broken Instances of attempted bribery have been brought to light. The Governor recommends a change in the methods of punishment, which includes confinement instead of flogging.

JOHN M'CAIN.

His Departure Arouses Severe Criticisms from Creditors.

Yesterday The Sentinel noted the transfer of the Home billiard hall to Louis Centlivre, John Eckart and Isaac Trauerman, his principal creditors.

It seems now that Mr. McCain left a dozen other creditors without any recourse and they are mad. Mr. Ditto, the grocer; A. Hattersley & Son, Henry Ortman, Sam Oppenhammer, Herman Nathan, and others too numerous to mention are among the unfortunates.

The people are sore because Mr. McCain is believed to have taken with him $25,000—$15,000 or $20,000 of the amount being in government bonds.

It is said that Mr. McCain has paid but few, if any, of his bills in the last two years, and his creditors will lose heavily unless he returns and settles.

He has property here, but it is in his wife's name.

Mr. McCain's conduct is severely criticised.

PALACE CONFECTIONERY.

A Grand Opening This Afternoon at 3 O'Clock.

The room No. 29 Arcade block, on West Main street, will be the attraction from now on. Henry Francke, late from Chicago, opened the Palace Confectionery this afternoon to the citizens of Fort Wayne. The room was elegantly arranged and furnished. Mr. Francke will manufacture his own candies, which will enable all lovers of candy to see how they are made. His goods will be of the very finest, and all late new novelties of sweet things. Special invitation is extended to the ladies of Fort Wayne to attend the opening this afternoon.

Lecture Course.

Madam Bloomfield's recital should be attended by all those who would be entertained for an hour and a half, Thursday.

Baltimore American, March 23, 1884: Miss Fannie Bloomfield (in the Peabody Symphony concert) made her first appearance in this city and made a most favorable impression. She plays charmingly and has the true artistic fire.

Miss Bloomfield played a group of Chapin works, including the C minor Nocturne, an etude in C major, the F sharp minor Mazourka, and an Andante, followed by the great Polonaise. In the first few moments it was evident that her technique was very fine. The clear, singing touch, the intelligent phrasing, the vigor of the octave passages, the smoothness of the long, broken chords—these showed well-trained fingers and wrists. But what was better than these was the sentiment with which it was delivered. Since Rubenstein played this finest of the nocturnes here, we have heard no one whose conception of it seemed to us so noble.

BOOMING BLAINE.

He Will Reach the Pacific Coast June 20, and After His Nomination to the Presidency, Make a "Triumphal" Tour.

New York, Nov. 29.—A Washington special to the Herald says that Mr. James G. Blaine is expected to reach San Francisco, Cal., on his return to the United States, the 20th of June next. He will return via Japan. Five days after his arrival in San Francisco the national republican convention will be held.

Mr. Blaine will remain in California until the nomination is made. One of Blaine's party managers, who is authority for this statement, says that the Maine statesman will be renominated practically without opposition.

His presence in California will, it is believed, create so great a furor as to ensure him the solid vote of the entire Pacific slope. His journey across the continent will be, according to the present program, the greatest ovation ever accorded an American statesman, not excepting that to General Grant in 1879. Nebraska, Missouri, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana and New York will be visited by him en route to his home in Augusta, Maine.

THE TOAD AND HIS PREY.

Peculiar Provisions of Nature by Which He Can Catch and Eat Insects.

I presume you are all aware of the peculiar manner in which the toad seizes his prey, says a writer in the Boston Globe. The root of his tongue is fastened in the very front of his upper jaw, while the tip lies far down his throat. It thus lies directly over his windpipe, and he would not be able to breathe were not his tongue perforated in the middle, exactly in the right place, so that it can act opening or contracting, somewhat in the manner of the glottis. When he sees any moving thing which he judges to be an insect, he throws the tip of his tongue out with great accuracy of aim, picks the insect up, and thrusts it down his throat with the rapidity of lightning. Lay down an apple-core or a little piece of shingle smeared with molasses near a toad, and you must watch very sharply to see how it is that he so rapidly transfers every fly that settles on your bait to his own stomach.

The accuracy of aim in the young toad is similar to the accuracy with which the young quail or chicken picks up a grain. A young chicken, having only its head out of the shell, picked up a fly that lighted near it. And, said Mr. Calthrop, when you consider the nice co-operation of nervous and muscular movements necessary to this feat, you will perceive that the chicken must have been practicing fly-catching in the person of its ancestry for thousands or millions of years. But I once had a curious proof that the toad is capable of improvement by practice. Under a bee hive in a garden at Cambridge I observed for several successive summers a toad watching for overloaded bees who failed to reach the threshold of the hives. No sooner did they fall on the ground than he snapped them up. But one day I saw he had lost by some accident his right eye, and when he struck at a bee he lost his aim and picked up dirt from one side of the bee. He wiped his mouth with his paw and tried again and again. The bee generally managed to climb to the top of some little prominence on the ground and fly away before the toad succeeded. The poor fellow was half starved and grew thin, but I observed that before the summer was ended he had learned to aim as correctly with one eye as he used to with two, and had again recovered his plumpness.

The toad's tongue usually put things down his throat so nicely that he does not need much power of swallowing; but he occasionally needs it, and is forced to make up by mother wit what is lacking in the powers of his throat. You will observe this most frequently in his attempt to take a grass-hopper or locust. A toad will frequently attack an object that is really too large for him to get into his mouth at all. Thus I have seen one attempt a huge catapillar or a sphynx, and I have known of one undertaking a wounded humming bird. In this case it was a perfect failure. But when a toad has transferred the head of a large locust to his stomach and finds the hind legs and tail still protruding from his mouth, he usually turns to the nearest stone or fence and pushes the grasshopper's legs against the obstacle until he has rammed it into his mouth.

When Miss Sadie Aikens, of Reeves, Ga., eloped, the other night, she took with her the family watch-dog. After the marriage ceremony had been performed she wrote a note to her parents acquainting them with the fact and imploring their forgiveness, tied it to the dog's collar, and sent him home.

LOTTA'S FREAK.

She Appears As the Protector of the Dumb Animal and Gets Into a Big Damage Suit.

Boston, Nov. 29.—The papers were served yesterday upon Lotta, the well-known actress, in a suit for $50.000 damage instituted by Abraham Samuels, a commercial traveler for a paper house at Cincinnati. The case is a novel one. It appears that one day last week Samuels hired a herdic to carry him from his hotel to the Providence depot, where he was to take a train for the west.

The horse, which was lame and unfit for work, caught the eye of Miss Lotta, who seized the bridle and detained the animal until an officer arrived and ordered it taken back to the stable. Owing to these proceedings Samuels lost his train. He now seeks redress for his loss of time in the manner stated.

MARY SCHULTE.

She May Lose An Arm From the Bite of George Ewing's Vicious Bull Dog.

In the early part of this month a vicious bull dog, owned by Mr. Geo. Ewing attacked and bit about the arm a little girl named Mary Schulte, whose parents lived then in Nebraska. The father of the child complained to the mayor and the dog was ordered shot. Mr. Ewing, protested that the bull dog was goaded into fury by the children constantly teasing him, and removed the dog out of the reach of the marshal.

This morning Dr. C. B. Stemen reported that the little girl's arm was terribly swollen and poisoned from the effects of the dog bite. He said they were making efforts to save it without amputation, but added: "I would not have the arm for all the dogs in the state."

The parents of the afflicted child now reside in Bloomingdale and are poor. It is feared blood poisoning will manifest itself in the child's body, and if it does, not alone her arm but her life is in danger.

It is altogether a lamentable situation, and hydrophobia is not an impossible phase in her case.

Her father, Wm. Schulte, is employed by S. Bash & Co. It is said he will seek damages from Mr. Ewing, who has vast estates.

The New Pythian Laws.

Grand Chancellor W. L. Heiskell has just issued official circulars, calling the attention of subordinate lodges throughout the grand jurisdiction of Indiana to the decisions of Supreme Chancellor Howard Douglas, relating to the general laws (balloting for candidates for admission and the widows' and orphans' fund) requiring that the decisions as promulgated shall stand as the law on and after their reading in open lodge. The grand chancellor also calls special attention to the fact that, beginning with the approaching yearly term, he shall insist upon the enforcement of section 14 of article III, of the general laws, making it compulsory upon the part of all officers of subordinate lodges "to commit to memory their respective portions of the rituals in opening and closing the lodge, and conferring the several grades of rank, within six weeks after being installed; and, on failure to do so, the office shall be declared vacant." He calls upon the district deputies throughout the state to assist him in enforcing the above law.

Business Men's Exchange Topics.

The Business Men's exchange met last evening, with Mr. G. W. Seavy, president pro tem., in the chair, and Mr. J. B. Monning as secretary. Mr. Leopold Freiburger was admitted to membership. Mr, D. N. Foster stated that the committee, consisting of D. N. Foster, Louis Diether and H. C. Paul, had to report the organization of the Foster Folding Bed company. The committee reported that they had seen the council in regard to having them withhold a charter to a new gas company until thoroughly investigated. A standing committee on gas was appointed, consisting of S. M. Foster, G. W. Seavey, F. Eckart and F. Beach.

Mr. S. M. Foster spoke on the feasibility of the city owning the gas works.

The chairman, Mr. Seavy, was instructed to see the authorities of the Nickel Plate with the idea of locating their shops here.

A Lucky Escape.

Yesterday afternoon while Mary, the little daughter of Mrs. Sophia Lee, who lives at No. 21 West Jefferson street, was either playing around or stirring up the fire in a coal heater in one of the rooms, she met with an accident that might have proven fatal. One of the burning coals fell out and set fire to the child's dress. The screams of the little one brought the mother to the room, when she found the child's clothing enveloped in flames. She succeeded in quickly extinguishing them and the little girl luckily escaped without any serious injuries.

TUESDAY'S TRAMP

Made Under Bright Skies and in the Warm Sunlight Tells its Own Tale in the Column Below.

The three engines on the Nickel Plate gravel trains have been taken off and put into the regular freight service.

The work in the erecting department of the Pittsburg shops is now brisk, as there is a demand for new locomotives.

James Rogers, a bridge foreman on the Nickel Plate, accidentally cut off one of his fingers the other day while handling an adz.

Henry Studor yesterday commenced work on the Nickel Plate road, as fireman on the switch engine running from here to New Haven.

William Cronmiller, one of the night employes at the Pittsburg car shops, was taken suddenly ill while at work last night and conveyed to his home.

Adam Hoffman, an employe in the Bass foundry moulding rooms, who has been sick with rheumatism for some time, has returned to work again.

The car and blacksmith departments of the Pittsburg shops have a large force of men on all night duty now and work is also carried on in the boiler shops.

Otto Benz, of the Bass foundry, who has completed his first year's service in the shops, has been promoted to the charge of a lathe in the machine department.

The clerks in the Pennsylvania company's shops are again busy in tussling with their monthly reports, and are cross when a newspaper reporter attempts to talk to them.

The work of making the connections for water and gas for the new offices at the Bass foundry is now in progress, and they will be ready for occupancy some time during the latter part of December.

Master Mechanic G. L. Potter, of the great Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago shops, is but twenty-seven years of age, but is distinguished by his fine executive ability and proficiency in the important business affairs which pass through his hands.

The engineering department of the Pennsylvania Railroad company reports that all new work for the winter of 1887-8 by that corporation has been ended, and that considerable of it will be put into operation early in the spring. A large amount of the new equipment ordered is for this service.

Fred Schafenecker, an employe of the east end car shops of the Pennsylvania company, was badly injured in the back yesterday afternoon, by a car wheel falling against him, and he had to be conveyed home in a carriage. His injuries are such that he will probably be confined to the house for a month or more. He lives at No. 277 Broadway.

The pleasant face and handsome form of Carl Swain, the popular Western Associated Press operator, now beams behind the desk at the Pittsburg offices, where he receives The Sentinel's telegraphic report. Carl is a pleasant fellow almost anywhere you put him, but he does look just the least bit lonesome way down there. He stands the banishment manfully, but pines at times for his old desk in the Aveline house office

Alfred and Charles Beard, who formerly lived in this city, the former having been employed in the electric light works and the latter in the Wabash shops, are now carrying on a machine shop at Napoleon, O., where they have been for some time. The first-named gentleman is quite a genius in his way and has lately made some improvements in both the incandescent and arc electric lights. These improvements they have had patented and at a test recently given them at Napoleon they have proven a great success and superior to any other electric light in use. The citizens of that place have formed a stock company with $10,000 capital and will place the light in many of the business houses and dwellings and also on the streets. The gentlemen seem to have struck a bonanza and will get rich.

TUESDAY, NOV. 29, 1887.

THE city of Augusta, Me., is now the defendant in twenty-seven suits for false imprisonment brought by members of the Salvation Army. In one of these the damages are laid at several thousands of dollars, the complaint alleging that death resulted from the imprisonment. It is matter of rumor that if these suits are successful two hundred others will be brought against other Maine cities and incorporated towns.

ONE who claims to know of what he is speaking says that sealskins are expensive, not because they are scarce, but because the trade limits the supply. If all the skins that could be taken were poured on the market, the fur would become so common that it would cease to be desired by the wealthy. So the seal catchers agree upon the total number that they will put upon the market, and they make their report to the furriers of London and Paris, who meet each spring and decide upon prices.

CALIFORNIA has some big orchards, and the largest is in the Suisun Valley, and is owned by A. T. Hatch, President of the California Fruit Union. Mr. Hatch has 200 acres in pair trees, 130 in peaches, 70 in apricots, 10 in nectarines, 210 in almonds, 40 in cherries, 100 in plums and prunes, besides 40 acres of currants and gooseberries, and hundreds of lemon and orange trees. Of these acres, 300 bore fruit this season to the amount of 2,000 tons, which brought the owner $100,000. He calculates that when the whole orchard is in full bearing it will produce 8,000 tons of fruit, worth $400,000.

THE Nantes Museum, which is one of the richest departmental museums in France, has just acquired a small casket of no little historical interest—namely: that in which the heart of Anne of Brittany, Queen of France and Navarre, was placed at her death. The casket, which is of massive gold, is made in the shape of a heart, and inside the filagree work on the outside are nine fleur-de-lis and nine trefoil flowers, with the following motto: "Cuevr de vertus orne dignement covronne." The casket is attributed to Jean Perreal, painter in ordinary to the King, who was ordered by Francis to paint the Queen's portrait when she died at Blois in 1514.

MR. O'BRIEN, the home-rule Irish editor, is confined in a cell six feet by eight, is fed on bread and water, and is denied the consolation of seeing the prison chaplain. This does not seem to be enough for his jailers. They insist that he shall wear prison garb, exercise with murderers and cutthroats, and do all the other menial and degrading work which malefactors are condemned to do. And all this because he advised some Irish tenants to resist the payment of rack-rents to alien landlords and encouraged others to resist evictions from holdings in which the law of the land now holds that they have an equity. Mr. O'Brien is stoutly resisting the attempt of the Tories to punish persons convicted of political offenses as if they were burglars, murderers, and highwaymen. So far he has succeeded.

I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years; I had lost sense of smell entirely for the last fifteen years, and I had almost lost my hearing. My eyes were getting so dim I had to get some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can see to thread as fine a needle as ever I did, my sense of smell is partly restored, and it seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like Ely's Cream Balm for catarrh.—Mrs. E. E. Grimes. 67 Valley St., Rendrill, Perry Co., Ohio.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D. New York City.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub wakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

MONROEVILLE.

Auditor Neizer to Erect a Big Grain Elevator Down There--Asked to Enforce the Liquor Law.

We have no more bears.

Natural gas talk is at at end.

Prof. Kimble, of Fort Wayne, is teaching music here.

Auditor Niezer spent Thanksgiving with his family in this city.

Welch & Gerow are slating a new brick school house for Trustee Neff, of Madison township.

Monroeville has had more timber hauled here for shipment this year, than for the last ten years.

Monroeville is greatly in need of a grist mill. Let some enterprising men build one on the stock plan.

Monroeville will have a great building boom in the spring. A number of brick store buildings will be erected.

Mr. E. J. Steward and family, of the Cash Bargain store, are at the bedside of his aged mother, at Fort Wayne.

J. W. Meeks' new residence, on Mulberry street, will, when completed, be one of the finest dwellings in town.

J. W. Edwards, of Monroe Center, Adams county, has located here and in a few days will open up a first class dry goods store in the Heller building.

The temperance union asks the town officials to enforce the 11 o'clock liquor law. The law is twelve years old and this will be the first attempt to enforce it.

Arney Hess and Miss Annie Mercer were married last Wednesday evening by Rev. W. I. Taylor. Miss Mercer is a teacher in the Monroeville public schools.

Last Thursday, at the residence of the bride's mother, near East Liberty, occurred the wedding of Miss Sarah Ridenour to Mr. Ed. A. Waburn, of Van Wert, Rev. Mr. Snider officiating. Miss Ridenour is a sister-in-law of Mr. L. F. Niezer. We extend congratulations.

The Thanksgiving festival given here by the I. O. O. F. members, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, was a grand occasion, which will not be soon forgotten as a gala day. The voting of an elegant reclining rocking chair to the most popular merchant, was awarded to our worthy townsman, Mr. D. S. Redelsheimer. The proceeds of the festival amounted to over $300.

Last Thursday evening, at the residence of Mr. Marquis Ridenour, one of Madison township's most prosperous and industrious farmers, occurred the marriage of his accomplished daughter, Mary, to Mr. John C. Hauk, a highly respectable young man, of the same township. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. O. Bowen, in the presence of a large concourse of relatives and intimate friends. After the usual congratulations a reception was given. We extend our best wishes to the happy young couple.

J. B. Niezer recently purchased the Langard property, at the corner of Main and Railroad streets, with the intention of erecting there, in the spring, a large and substantial elavator and storage house. The plans of the building are being made and the material will soon be on the ground. C. S. Ridenour, the present popular and obliging grain buyer for Johns & Co., will manage the business for Mr. Niezer. We are told that if a commodious building can be had, they will commence buying grain this winter. The storage room, when completed, will be used to store baled hay.

An Elegant Substitute

for oils, salts, pills, and all kinds of bitter, nauseous medicines is the very agreeable liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs. Recommended by leading physicians. Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Co., San Francisco, Cal. For sale by Thieme & Gross.

Wrong

To imagine that the treatment of Constipation consists merely in unloading the bowels. The medicine must not only act as a purgative, but be a tonic as well, and not produce after its use greater costiveness. This is what Simmons Liver Regulator always does.

"As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels."—W. J. McELROY, Macon, Ga.

Believe us, when we tell you that most of the despondent feeling (the blues) is the effect of a Torpid Liver, Indigestion, Weakness of Stomach, and Nervousness. A dose of Simmons Liver Regulator invariably relieves, cures and prevents a re-occurrence.

"I find Simmons Liver Regulator, very safe, harmless and valuable as a family medicine, and have used it for any disorder of the system and have found it to act like a charm, and I believe that if it was used in time, it would prove a great preventive of sickness. I have often recommended it to my friends, and shall continue to do so."—Rev. JAMES. M. ROLLINS, Fairfield, Va.

Simmons Liver Regulator is given with safety and with the happiest results, in almost any ailment, to the most delicate infant as well as to the adult. For all diseases in which a laxative, alterative, or purgative is needed, it will give the most perfect satisfaction. It is the cheapest, purest and best Family Medicine in the world.

Price $1. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by J. H. ZEILIN & Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

The treatment of many thousands of cases of those chronic weaknesses and distressing ailments peculiar to females, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has afforded a vast experience in nicely adapting and thoroughly testing remedies for the cure of woman's peculiar maladies.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the outgrowth, or result, of this great and valuable experience. Thousands of testimonials, received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the more aggravated and obstinate cases which had baffled their skill, prove it to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women. It is not recommended as a "cure-all," but as a most perfect Specific for woman's peculiar ailments.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. For morning sickness, or nausea, from whatever cause arising, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia and kindred symptoms, its use, in small doses, will prove very beneficial.

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhea, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, accompanied with "internal heat."

As a regulator and promoter of functional action, at that critical period of change from girlhood to womanhood, "Favorite Prescription" is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results. It is equally efficacious and valuable in its effects when taken for those disorders and derangements incident to that later and most critical period, known as "The Change of Life."

"Favorite Prescription," when taken in connection with the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and small laxative doses of Dr. Pierce's Purgative Pellets (Little Liver Pills), cures Liver, Kidney and Bladder diseases. Their combined use also removes blood taints, and abolishes cancerous and scrofulous humors from the system.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

Large bottles (100 doses) $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

For large, illustrated Treatise on Diseases of Women (160 pages, paper-covered), send ten cents in stamps. Address,

IDE JONES' BIG B'AR FIGHT.

Uncle Abel's Story of a Great Attack of Bear Meat Away Back in '26.

[Harrisburg (Pa.) Sun.]

Uncle Abel Parmentere from "way up the North Branch," tells the following interesting story of an old-time bear fight:

"Ide's big b'ar fight come off on Washington's birthday, 1826. Ide an' his dog Andy, went out that day a purpose for b'ar. Tha had been a big blow down o' timber the fall afore in the neighborhood o' Riar's Creek, whar Ide lived, and pooty much the hull of the woods in the deestric' had been tore up by the roots and tossed about permisc'us. Ide and Andy struck in fur Riar's Creek, an' the fust thing they know'd they rammed slam bang ag'in a big windfall. Tha wan't no way 'round it, and so Ide says to Andy th' they'd whale right on through it, but the nigher they got to t'other side the further they seemed to be away, the windfall was so uncommon bad, an' they were gettin' pooty clus on to tuckered out 'fore they got the best of it. Arter they got the best o' the down timber they struck another piece o' luck right away, for they found an acre or two o' the pootiest crop o' briars and brambles ez ever grow'd ten feet high, an' twisted itself together like a fish net. But tha wa'n't no sech thing ez humpin' it back over that windfall, and so Ide an' Andy shet their eyes an' pulled ahead for the open kentry. They had navigated through the smilin' garden o' prickers an' stickers fer nigh onto a miled, we'n, to add to the pleasures of the sitiwation, the dog began to bristle up and growl. Then Ide know'd th't tha was business to be did somewar tharbouts, an' th't the business was b'ars, fer Andy never wasted no time bristlin' up nor spent his wind in growlin' unless tha was the smell o' b'ar in the air, an' the smell o' b'ar never played 'round Andy's nose without him a drawin' some on it in.

"Wall, b'ar it was, an' no mistake, for jist ahead o' Ide an' Andy an' not more'n six foot away riz one b'ar bigger'n a yearlin' calf an' another un' 'bout half ez big. Ide know'd by the way the big b'ar growled an' knashed its teeth th't it were a she one an' that she had a family o' new cubs tucked away in a log or hole in the ground some'rs in adjacent parts, and that she had it in her head that Ide and Andy was picknickin' in that briar patch jest to steal them cubs, an' that she was thar to break up the picnic. Now, the matter o' havin' a hip-lock or a back holt, or a stand-up an' knock-down with a b'ar or two was a trifle that Ide Jones was allus a hankerin' arter, and but the havin' of it mixed up with down timber, briar bushes, an' brambles was a leetle too much of a pleasant prospect, an' Ide wished he was back hum chawin' gingernuts an' swiggin' cider. But thar he was. Thar had to be a fight or a foot-race. The course wan't laid out for much of a foot-race an' so Ide concluded to stay thar an' take the chances on some o' the boys running' onto his bones in the spring. Lookin' around with a come-sinner-come-an'-view-the-ground-whar-you-must-surely-lie sort of a look he prepared to take his dose.

"'Twixt the time th't the b'ars first gladdened the eyes of Ide an' Andy an' the time th't the ol' she one bu'sted through the thick briars at 'em wa'n't more'n ten seconds. Ide didn't hev time to even club with his gun, but w'en the ol' b'ar clapped her two paws on Ide's two shoulders he hauled off an' pasted her a good un plumb in the eye, and the fight was in. Andy tackled the little b'ar an' kep' him from interferin' in the muss, an' gettin' him on the run, kep' him thar. Ide ripped out his huntin' knife, an' with a slashin' an' a gashin', a snarlin' an' a snappin', a chawin' an' a clawin' an' a rollin' an' a plowin', while hair an' meat an' rags an' dirt an' stone flew in the air till the sun was hid, the b'ar an' Ide cavorted around in that rich bottom o' brambles an' logs for mor'n fifteen minutes, fust one on top o' the heap an' then t'other. Then Ide got mad. He found the top rib of ol' Mrs. B'ar an' slid his knife clean up to the handle 'longside of it, an' then the b'ar turned the soles o' her feet to'ward the firyment on high, an' her young uns was orphans."

Money in Mines.

Queen Elizabeth leased all her royal rights to a company of mining adventurers, and under license from this company the well known Hugh Myddleton realized a large fortune by successfully mining for silver in Cardiganshire. This fortune, it is said, was in a great measure expended by Sir Hugh in bringing the New River to London; but the enterprising Welshman went on mining to the end of his life, and no doubt with tolerable success. At any rate his successor, Thomas Bushel, drew a large fortune from the same mines and obtained the royal permission to establish a mint in the Castle of Aberystwith, where from 1638 to 1642 silver pieces were coined, which are still tolerably plentiful in the cabinets of collectors. So great, indeed, was the value of the bullion raised that Bushel obtained a grant of the Isle of Lundy as a storehouse for the treasure; and when the Civil War broke out Bushel was able to show his gratitude to the King by clothing the whole of the royal army in the West, as well as by lending the King the sum of forty thousand pounds in specie. Eventually Bushel sank nearly the whole of his fortune in supporting the royal cause; and the most productive veins of ore being now exhausted, Bushel abandoned his Cardiganshire mines and went prospecting on the Mendip Hills, led to this course, it is said, by some old prophecy of the enchanter, Merlin.

Some years later valuable veins of ore were discovered at Gogerddan, near Aberystwith, on the estate of Sir Carberry Price, and in the year 1690 an act of Parliament was obtained in the interest of landed proprietors, by which the ancient claims of the Crown were abrogated, and only a royalty retained upon the product of gold mines. On the act receiving the Royal assent Sir Carberry Price rode straight from Whitehall to his home in Cardiganshire, accomplishing his journey in forty-eight hours, and bonfires were lighted on all the hills and general rejoicing instituted, in celebration of the event.—All the Year Round.

Shall We Plant Native or Foreign Trees?

We feel justified in adding to these general statements a word of strong recommendation in favor of native as against foreign, or at least as against European trees. At the best the latter are uncertain in almost every case, while the former have an inborn and a well-proved title to be trusted. The most successful ornamental planting that has ever been done in America shows its results in the streets of such towns as Stockbridge, Great Barrington, Salem, and New Haven, and was the work of men who went to the forest and not to the nursery for their infant elms and maples. Certainly our more recently planted parks offer small promise of a like maturity of beauty with their European oaks and ashes, their Scotch and Austrian pines, in almost as deplorable a state as their Norway spruces. When not ornamental but economic plantations are in question, past experience tells very strongly against European trees, while the evidence of recent experiment with native trees—as in the plantations of indigenous conifers in eastern Massachusetts—is one of the most encouraging kind.—Century Magazine.

Syrup of Figs.

Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Co., San Francisco, Cal., is Nature's own true laxative. This pleasant California liquid fruit remedy may be had of Theime and Gross, druggists, large bottles at fifty cents or one dollar. It is the most pleasant, prompt, and effective remedy known to cleanse the system; to act on the Liver, Kidneys, and bowels gently yet thoroughly; to dispel Headaches, Colds and Fevers; to cure Constipation, Indigestion, and kindred ills.

Josiah Graston, an old gentleman residing in Belton County, Texas, is certainly deserving of mention. He was born at Lovelady Crossing, on the Catawba River, Burke County, North Carolina, in the year 1778. When a lad he went with his parents to Tennessee, and resided in that State until the year 1865, when he went to Texas and settled there. Mr. Graston is proud of the fact that his first vote was cast for Thomas Jefferson for President, and he has been voting the straight Democratic ticket ever since. He gets about very well. He lives almost entirely in the past, recounting scenes and incidents of seventy and eighty years ago as though they belonged to last year.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

TUESDAY, NOV. 29, 1887.

THE CITY NEWS.

Home lodge, F. and A. M., will hold a special meeting to-night.

Trenkley & Scherzinger are handsomely decorating the interior of their jewelry store.

McNish, Johnson & Slaven's minstrels have been dissolved in New York, owing to disagreements.

C. A. Banks, proprietor of the Paulding Gazette, has made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors.

J. R. McCurdy, the tobacco salesman, has returned to the city, and will again make his headquarters here.

The late Robert Archibald, of Lafayette, was made an Odd Fellow February 11, 1848. His son resides in this city.

The Lafayette Courier says: "Mrs. Frank Baker, of Fort Wayne, is a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Schilling."

Mr. Charley Ryan, the young truckman, who recently fractured an ankle so badly, is out again and able to attend to business as usual.

Root & Co., had a special sale of silks satins, plushes and velvets yesterday and the great store was thronged from door to door by the ladies.

M. F. Kelley, representing the New Record, a splendid Catholic paper, published at Indianapolis, is in the city, the guest of Postmaster Kaough.

The Baptist church choir has been reorganized, with Prof. W. S. Heath as leader. Music is to be a great feature of worship at Rev. Mr. Northrop's church.

Mr. J. W. French, editor of the Lafayette Journal, was in the city over Sunday. Mr. French will soon wed an accomplished Fort Wayne lady, it is said.

The Leichner heirs talk of quitting the saloon business at the corner of Calhoun and Columbia streets. Their rent was raised this week from $1,000 to $1,600 a year.

James Lillie, of Kankakee, Ill., arrived in the city last night. He is on his way to Metropolitan, Mich., where, with his brother, Mr. John Lillie, they have a big iron ore mine.

The Choral union met last night. Some of the members seem to think the organization will not thrive. Its president, Hon. Charles McCulloch, has not yet attended its sessions.

Mr. R. W. T. DeWald returned from Detroit this morning. He saw the Henley company play "Deacon Brodie" and pronounces it the best theatrical attraction now on the road.

Orth Stein, the rascally Lafayette newspaper reporter, known best by his exploit at Kansas City, while engaged by Nelson & Morss, is in jail at Pittsburg for forging a bank check and victimizing a number of citizens under the alias of John Armytage.

The Fort Wayne Curling club will hold the first of a series of winter evening entertainments, at Centlivre's cafe, to-morrow evening. They will have a little supper, enchanting Scotch songs, and hope to have a good time outside, if the river ice is thick enough.

The second number of the Fort Wayne Tribune fairly bristles with temperance and religious editorials from Rev. M. L. Blaney and Dr. J. W. Younge. They are going to enlarge the paper from four to five columns. Its editors lecture on the topics named when invited to do so.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger is at Nashville, Tenn., assisting in the consecration of Bishop Scannell. His chancellor, Rev. J. F. Lang, is delivering a series of lectures in Rt. Rev. Bishop Gilmore's diocese in Ohio. Father Lang is a very interesting lecturer and a brilliant pulpit orator.

An interesting religious revival has been in progress at the Simpson M. E. church for some time and the meetings are growing in power and good every night. A number of persons have been convicted of their sins and have publicly professed a faith in Christ. The pastor, Rev. C. H. Wilkinson, is eloquent in the presentation of the gospel to his hearers and is doing much to build up the church in this city.

With the reorganization of the Wabash and the Wabash Western consolidation the Wabash east of the river will again come into full control of the entire property, and Frank Chandler will doubtless become general passenger agent of the entire system, which passenger men say means a general turning over of officials and agents on the line east of the river which were put there by Receiver McNulta.

The savings fund feature, recently established by the Pennsylvania company, is meeting with some opposition. Outside influences are brought to bear on the employes, which, in some cases, causes a hesitancy, it is stated, on the part of the employes to invest their savings, as proposed, while others feel that their money is much safer in the hands of an official board like that of the Pennsylvania lines than in a savings bank. No one doubts that the intentions of the officers of the road are good, and that in this particular case the plan is a safe and prudent one.

The Emily Soldene burlesque and novelty company appear at the Temple opera house to-morrow evening, in a benefit performance for Charley Sorg Wayne, a Fort Wayne boy. The Chicago Tribune says: "The Soldene is in the vigor of youth, knows how to please and always succeeds. Her principal advertisement this season is M'lle Sara, the highest kind of a kicker. It is said that this most elastic beauty can speak seven different languages, and those who saw her Sunday night are willing to make oath that she can kick in seven different directions with both feet at the same time."

Delightful moonlight nights are in order again.

Mr. S. Goodman, of Goodman & Son, is at Chicago.

D. E. Kauffman, of Payne, Ohio, was in the city yesterday.

The Robinson house registered thirty-five people yesterday.

Market Master Ropa collected $22.30 during the last month.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lightfoot are visiting relatives at Falmouth, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Owens left last night for Indianapolis, to visit a day or two.

Mr. A. J. Stewart, of Bluffton, roadmaster of the Muncie route, is in the city.

Hon. James H. Rice, of Indianapolis, was a guest of the Aveline house last night.

Mrs. Meade C. Williams is in the city visiting her mother, Mrs. Jesse L. Williams.

A new German building and loan association will be organized at the Custer house to-night.

The Zollinger Gattling Gun squad will meet at the Robinson house tomorrow evening.

Mr. George W. Ewing is at Racine, Wis., to purchase a brace of bird dogs at the kennel there.

Carl Siemon, of the postoffice, is doing honours over the arrival of a sweet girl baby at his home.

Henry Krohne won the horse which was lotteried off by Rudy Rinewald at Joe Douglass' place.

Franklin Greenwell et al. sue Seraphin Coeurderey et al. to recover $2,500 on a note and mortgage.

Don't fail to witness the great fire scene and hear McCarthay's new songs, at the Academy to-night.

C. F. Krah has been granted a permit to build an addition to his brick house on lot 7, Ewing's addition, to cost $600.

Mr. Mayer L. Graff returned last evening from a business visit to Toledo, where Mr. Graff has property interests.

The street hackmen have taken a new departure. They now make the rounds of the hotels, charging 25 cents fare to depots.

The Morton club will not hold a reception until Wednesday of next week. The entertainment this week is cancelled.

Michael Howly was a solitary victim at police court this morning and he is boarding out a fine for drunkenness at the jail.

Rev. Kucher has made arrangements to send the four children of the late Mrs. Gottlieb Meyer to the orphans' home. at Rochester

Miss Julia Casanave, daughter of Mr. F. D. Casanave, has returned from Chicago, accompanied by her friend, Miss Julia Cleary.

The Fort Wayne Jenney Electric Light company will probably illuminate Plymouth, Ind., through the influence of M. W. Simons.

Mrs. J. H. Bass gave an elaborate reception, last evening, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Walker, at her home on West Berry street.

Miss Kate Haley, who has been visiting friends in the city for the last six weeks, returned to her home at Solomon City, Kan., yesterday.

Judge R. S. Taylor returned Sunday night from Boston, whither he had gone in the interest of the Fort Wayne Jenney Electric Light company.

The sewing society of the St. John's Lutheran church will meet on Thursday afternoon, at the residence of Mrs. Fred Boltz, in Bloomingdale.

Seats for "One of the Bravest," which opens at the Academy to-night, are going like hot cakes. The piece made a great hit here last season.

Officer Humbrecht last night arrested George Johnson and Fannie Prizo, illicit lovers, and they paid their little fines at police court this morning.

Mr. Lucien E. Walker and his bride, nee Maud Fisher, left this morning for their California home. Mr. Walker has palatial estates on the Pacific coast.

The curling and quoiting club will give their annual banquet at Centlivre's to-morrow, and at that time arrangements will be made for a winter program.

Wm. Cronin, the funniest Irish comedian on earth, will appear in his great character of Widow Crogan, in "One of the Bravest," at the Academy tonight.

The case of Boegel against Roth & Kellar will come up for hearing in the circuit court Friday. Boegel seeks $10,000 damages for an injury sustained while in their employ.

The Washington correspondent of the Indianapolis Journal states that the skeleton of Thomas Coombs, a noted Washington scientist, had been found near Fairfax and the gentleman's murder is suspected. Deceased was a cousin on J. M. Coombs and Thomas A. Coombs, of this city.

Miss Rebecca Levi, of Huntington, who has been in the city for a few days visiting Miss Rose Schlesinger, will be married on Wednesday of next week to Mr. Lewis Jacoby, a prominent young business man of Des Moines, Iowa. The young lady is well-known in this city and a number of her friends here will be present at the wedding. The young gentleman has been in the city since Thanksgiving day and left yesterday in company with Miss Levi for her home at Huntington.

Salvation Oil cures rheumatism in from 12 to 28 hours. Swellings and bruises in a few hours. All pains and aches almost immediately upon application. Price twenty-five cents a bottle.

A sure winner in the tussle with Jack Frost is the man who is equipped with the warm lined overshoes sold at

THE HOOSIER.

Five persons in F. M. Cherry's family were poisoned by eating canned tomatoes.

"Deacon Brodie," a great melodrama, at the Temple opera house tonight.

The board of trustees of the Feeble-minded school meet at Richmond tomorrow.

Moritz Zellar has been removed to the city hospital from his home on Gay street for better treatment.

"One of the Bravest" will open a two night's engagement at the Academy tonight. A grand family matinee will be given to-morrow.

Sheriff Viberg has sold the saloon of Statler, corner of Washington and Calhoun streets, to Edward Glaser. Glaser is Statler's father-in-law.

Miss Mary Christie has resigned her position as teacher at Wayne township school No. 5. Mr. Mason has been named as her successor by Trustee Hilbrecht.

The ladies of the St. Paul M. E. church will give a social at the residence of Rev. Cooper, 54 Walton avenue, on Thursday evening of this week. The public is invited.

Mr. J. G. Lasarre, of Paris, did not lecture at the Academy last night, owing to the fact that no people were present. He will lecture at that play house next Monday evening on "America's Greatness."

Miss Princess Clark, a young lady who formerly lived in this city, was married on Thanksgiving day at the home of her father, Mr. W. A. Clark, at Van Wert, Ohio, to Mr. E. C. Long, a Kentuckian.

Rev. J. H. Bayless, D. D., of Cincinnati, will dedicate the St. Paul M. E. church Sunday, Dec. 18. Dr. Bayless is one of the strongest men in the west, and will be a prominent candidate for bishop before the general conference next May.

Messrs. H. G. Graffe, B. S. O'Connor, R. C. Bell, Charles McCulloch, A. Hattersley and W. W. Worthington went to Montpelier yesterday to look at the gas fields. The gentlemen named will pipe gas to Fort Wayne under the terms of the ordinance now before the council.

The piano recital by Mme. Fanny Bloomfield, on the 1st of December will be a revelation to our citizens. When her brilliant career is at its zenith, it will be a credit to our city to be able to say that we entertained this brilliant musical star, recognizing her genius from the first.

"One of the Bravest," which opens at the Academy to-night, is backed by a New York capitalist who is spending a great deal of money to make the production first class. The several strong characters are entrusted to capable people, among whom may be mentioned Charles McCarthy, Wm. Cronen, Geo. Reynolds, Lottie Blair, Marion Percy and others.

Mr. Edward J. Henly and his splendid English company, will present "Deacon Brodie; or the Double Life" at the Temple to-night. The story is from the pen of that gifted writer, Robert Louis Stevenson, with Mr. Henly in the title role. This is an attraction THE SENTINEL can cheerfully recommend and urge for it a big attendance. There is no finer company on the road.

Mrs. Strohn, a widow, and Mrs. Woods, a divorced wife, lived on East Columbia street. Mrs. Strohn reported this morning that Mrs. Woods left for parts unknown and abandoned her three children, ranging in ages from two to twelve years. The youngest child, too, is sick. Trustee Hilbrecht sent it to the city hospital and will transfer the two other children to the poor house. Their mother was too poor to support them and fled from the prospect of starvation.

Missfortune seems to rest heavily upon Mr. Jacob Hill, the ticket agent of the Wabash road at Aboite, this county. He runs a store at that place in connection with his railroad business and a few weeks ago was completely burned out. The news reached this city last night that his son, who is employed in St. Louis, Mo., had fallen from the roof of house on which he was working and had been killed. The accident occurred yesterday afternoon and the news was sent from this city this morning to Mr. Hill at Aboite.

The indications are very favorable for weather within the next month. Our readers will do well to prepare for it by fitting their feet with warm shoes and overshoes. We confidently predict that the best goods and prices are to be found at

A Fire in Salvadore Peltier's Grocery Store—Personal Gossip—News Notes.

Henry Meyers has a new horse.

Melville Mason, of Fort Wayne, spent Thanksgiving with his parents.

Louis Girard, of Denver, Col., is visiting his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Caps moved to Kansas City, Wednesday, where they expect to make their permanent home.

Wilson Bell and H. D. Dickerson, of Markle, Ind., spent Sunday with their many friends.

Frederick Paulsen has accepted a section foremanship on the Nickel Plate, near McComb, O.

August Koellinger, of Fort Wayne, spent Sunday with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Kemp, of Fort Wayne, were the guests of H. Meyers, Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Rogers and daughter, Jessie, left for Huntington Thursday, where they are visiting friends.

James Leahy is moving his house from the railroad ground north of the Wabash depot, to one of N. Spitzenberg's lots.

The social club gave their second hop in the G. A. R. hall Wednesday evening. A large crowd attended and had a very pleasant time. Stellhorn's orchestra furnished the music.

Friday morning about 6:30 the fire bell called out our citizens. Fire was discovered in the grocery store of S. Peltier, but was soon got under control by the willing aid of citizens. Fire damaged the building and stock to the extent of about fifty dollars. The fire is supposed to have started from a cigar thrown in a spitoon containing sawdust. The fire laddies did excellent work. "They got there."

NOW AND THEN.

Y. M. C. A.

An Interesting Meeting Held Last Evening.

The monthly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. took place last night at the reading room of the railroad department. The association extended a call to R. M. Hays as secretary of the city association. Mr. Hays is taking the matter under advisement and will report in one week. He will not leave the railroad department until a good secretary is secured to take his place. Secretary Newton reported the following detailed statement of the receipts and expenses of the fair and festival:

An eccentric North Carolinian forty-five years ago married and moved into a log house not far from Danbury. The house had one room down stairs in which were two holes, 8x10, for windows, and a big fireplace. When he built a fire in the new home he said that as long as he lived the hearthstone should never grow cold, and up to date it hasn't—the fire in the fireplace has never gone out. Meanwhile the man has never slept from home for a single night; has never tasted food from any table than his own; has never used a particle of oil or a single candle to light his dwelling; has been married three times; has begotten fourteen children, all of whom are living, and all but three married; has become a great-grandfather, and now is in vigorous health.

FOUR O'CLOCK P. M.

E. L. HARPER.

The Criminal Case Against the Fidelity National Banker Begins at Cincinnati This Morning.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 29.—The legal investigation into the great Fidelity National bank failure, so far as it can be made in a criminal trial, began this morning at 10 o'clock in the United States court room, when the case of E. L. Harper was called. Judge George R. Sage occupied the bench alone, Judge Jackson's health not being sufficient to justify him in undertaking any more labor than must be done.

The court room was crowded before the time for the opening of court. The large space set apart for the court, its officers, the parties and their attorneys, the bar and the press was also fully occupied. Shortly before 10 the distinguished looking defendant, Mr. E. L. Harper, appeared in custody of the United States marshal, and took his seat beside his counsel, Judge M. F. Wilson and O. H. Blackburn. Next to him sat his faithful wife. Beside her sat Miss Mathews, her sister.

Harper's appearance was not materially changed since June last, when he sat at his desk in the luxurious office of his great bank. Across the table were the government counsel, District Attorney W. B. Burnet and his two assistants, J. E. Bruce and Henry Hooper. A woman sat in front of the judge's desk to take the official report in shorthand. When the case was called Mr. Harper announced that he was ready.

The arraignment was proceeded by the reading of the substance of the long indictment, to which the defendant pleaded not guilty. Then the work of selecting the jury began. The first man called was Daniel Scott. He said he had made up his mind and did not believe he could give an impartial verdict upon the testimony. He was excused by the court. A large panel is present from which to select the the jury.

Paul Wolf, the young man who was arrested for threatening to blow up State's Attorney Grinnell with a bomb, was fined $50 and put under bonds to keep the peace.

Indicted For Manslaughter.

VALPARAISO, Nov. 29.—After investigating the Kouts disaster on the Chicago and Atlantic road, the grand jury returned two sealed indictments. Sheriff Thomas has made one arrest—John B. Park, conductor of the passenger train. He was indicted for involuntary manslaughter. James R. Malone, a wealthy farmer of Boone Grove, went on his bond for $5,000. The case will be called December 27 in the Porter circuit court. Probably this indictment will be quashed. The grand jury examined fourteen witnesses in this case. The other arrest will be made soon. It has been said that the train despatcher was not indicted. Many think he was more guilty than Park. The latter's indictment will prove a surprise to many.

A Rich Mine.

GALENA, Ill., Nov. 29.—One of the richest leads of pure Galena ore ever discovered in southern Wisconsin has just been struck at Jordan Center, near Monroe county, Wis. In the first three days ten thousand pounds of mineral ore was taken out, including one chunk weighing 1,500 pounds. A vast amount of ore is in sight and the fortunes of the owners, two men who have heretofore been poor, are fully assured.

A Colored Man's Gift.

XENIA, Ohio, Nov. 29.—M. Gaunt, a wealthy colored resident of this county, deeded his property, valued at $30,000, to the Wilberforce university, the leading colored college in the world.

Jacob Sharp.

ALBANY, Nov. 29.—The court of appeals reversed the decision of the court in the Jacob Sharp case, and ordered a new trial.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Indiana, fair weather, slowly rising temperature.

TELEGRAMS CUT SHORT.

The president to-day appointed James B. Chess, of Indiana, minister at Durango, Mex.

Gustave Nelis was hanged by negroes at Oakland, Fla., last night.

A reward of $10,000 for Eraclio Banal, a murderous Mexican bandit.

The vote in Virginia at the recent election was, democrats 119,806; republicans, 119,380; democratic majority, 428.

Lord Hartington was hissed and cheered on his arrival at London to-day.

John B. Laing & Co., dry goods merchants at London, Ont., failed to-day $100,000.

THE MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—Wheat, firmer, at 75¼c. Corn, stronger, at 47¼c. Oats, firm, at 22¼c. Rye, 56c. Barley, 75c. Prime Timothy, $2.21. Flaxseed, quiet. Whisky, $1.10. Pork, stronger, January, $14.60. Lard, steady, at $7.15 January, short ribs, $7.37½.

In the Rockhill ditch case, appealed from the county commissioners, the appeal was dismissed and returned to the commissioners for adjustment by Judge O'Rourke.

THE ANARCHISTS.

They Prepare An Incendiary Circular For Distribution Among the Workingmen.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—The Anarchists of this city have prepared a circular for distribution among the workingmen. It begins thus:

"FIGHT NOW!"

"Rulers we detest, freedom we request; to be equals we aspire, we will win or expire."

In the course of a conversation between John Swinton and Karl Marx, which took place shortly before the latter's death, Swinton asked Marx: 'What will the future bring?' Short, but meaning, was the answer. The great social philosopher answered it with but one short word, yet a word expressing very much. The answer was 'fight.' How clearly Marx could look into the future. Yes, fight and struggle. Even if there are some optimists in our ranks, the majority of our comrades are convinced that it will take hard fighting to gain the final aim which the thinking proletarial of all countries, with untiring fervor, is now struggling to reach. The picket skirmishing which has been done during the last few years in Europe, as well as in America, in the war for the erection and institution of free society proves that there is no use in talking about a political solution of this question."

HOOSIER CRUELTY.

The Management of the Woman's Reformatry About as Bad as the Rest of Them.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 29.—The governor has completed the investigation of the woman's state reformatory. He found that the managers were anxious to dictate the method of investigation, and so he dismissed them and took the testimony privately, the result of which was the discovery of proof of abusive treatment.

Among other things the fact was made clear that girls were tied up and whipped across the bare back until the skin was broken. Instances of attempted bribery have been brought to light. The Governor recommends a change in the methods of punishment, which includes confinement instead of flogging.

JOHN M'CAIN.

His Departure Arouses Severe Criticisms from Creditors.

Yesterday THE SENTINEL noted the transfer of the Home billiard hall to Louis Centlivre, John Eckart and Isaac Trauerman, his principal creditors.

It seems now that Mr. McCain left a dozen other creditors without any recourse and they are mad. Mr. Ditto, the grocer; A. Hattersley & Son, Henry Ortman, Sam Oppenhammer, Herman Nathan, and others too numerous to mention are among the unfortunates.

The people are sore because Mr. McCain is believed to have taken with him $25,000—$15,000 or $20,000 of the amount being in government bonds.

It is said that Mr. McCain has paid but few, if any, of his bills in the last two years, and his creditors will lose heavily unless he returns and settles.

He has property here, but it is in his wife's name.

Mr. McCain's conduct is severely criticised.

PALACE CONFECTIONERY.

A Grand Opening This Afternoon at 3 O'Clock.

The room No. 29 Arcade block, on West Main street, will be the attraction from now on. Henry Francke, late from Chicago, opened the Palace Confectionery this afternoon to the citizens of Fort Wayne. The room was elegantly arranged and furnished. Mr. Francke will manufacture his own candies, which will enable all lovers of candy to see how they are made. His goods will be of the very finest, and all late new novelties of sweet things. Special invitation is extended to the ladies of Fort Wayne to attend the opening this afternoon.

Lecture Course.

Madam Bloomfield's recital should be attended by all those who would be entertained for an hour and a half, Thursday.

Baltimore American, March 23, 1884: Miss Fannie Bloomfield (in the Peabody Symphony concert) made her first appearance in this city and made a most favorable impression. She plays charmingly and has the true artistic fire.

Miss Bloomfield played a group of Chopin works, including the C minor Nocturne, an etude in C major, the F sharp minor Mazourka, and an Andante, followed by the great Polonaise. In the first few moments it was evident that her technique was very fine. The clear, singing touch, the intelligent phrasing, the vigor of the octave passages, the smoothness of the long, broken chords - these showed well-trained fingers and wrists. But what was better than these was the sentiment with which it was delivered. Since Rubenstein played this finest of the nocturnes here, we have heard no one whose conception of it seemed to us so noble.

BOOMING BLAINE.

He Will Reach the Pacific Coast June 20, and After His Nomination to the Presidency, Make a "Triumphal" Tour.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—A Washington special to the Herald says that Mr. James G. Blaine is expected to reach San Francisco, Cal., on his return to the United States, the 20th of June next. He will return via Japan. Five days after his arrival in San Francisco the national republican convention will be held.

Mr. Blaine will remain in California until the nomination is made. One of Blaine's party managers, who is authority for this statement, says that the Maine statesman will be renominated practically without opposition.

His presence in California will, it is believed, create so great a furor as to ensure him the solid vote of the entire Pacific slope. His journey across the continent will be, according to the present program, the greatest ovation ever accorded an American statesman, not excepting that to General Grant in 1879. Nebraska, Missouri, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana and New York will be visited by him en route to his home in Augusta, Maine.

THE TOAD AND HIS PREY.

Peculiar Provisions of Nature by Which He Can Catch and Eat Insects.

I presume you are all aware of the peculiar manner in which the toad seizes his prey, says a writer in the Boston Globe. The root of his tongue is fastened in the very front of his upper jaw, while the tip lies far down his throat. It thus lies directly over his windpipe, and he would not be able to breathe were not his tongue perforated in the middle, exactly in the right place, so that it can act opening or contracting, somewhat in the manner of the glottis. When he sees any moving thing which he judges to be an insect, he throws the tip of his tongue out with great accuracy of aim, picks the insect up, and thrusts it down his throat with the rapidity of lightning. Lay down an apple-core or a little piece of shingle smeared with molasses near a toad, and you must watch very sharply to see how it is that he so rapidly transfers every fly that settles on your bait to his own stomach.

The accuracy of aim in the young toad is similar to the accuracy with which the young quail or chicken picks up a grain. A young chicken, having only its head out of the shell, picked up a fly that lighted near it. And, said Mr. Calthrop, when you consider the nice co-operation of nervous and muscular movements necessary to this feat, you will perceive that the chicken must have been practicing fly-catching in the person of its ancestry for thousands or millions of years. But I once had a curious proof that the toad is capable of improvement by practice. Under a bee hive in a garden at Cambridge I observed for several successive summers a toad watching for overloaded bees who failed to reach the threshold of the hives. No sooner did they fall on the ground than he snapped them up. But one day I saw he had lost by some accident his right eye, and when he struck at a bee he lost his aim and picked up dirt from one side of the bee. He wiped his mouth with his paw and tried again and again. The bee generally managed to climb to the top of some little prominence on the ground and fly away before the toad succeeded. The poor fellow was half starved and grew thin, but I observed that before the summer was ended he had learned to aim as correctly with one eye as he used to with two, and had again recovered his plumpness.

The toad's tongue usually put things down his throat so nicely that he does not need much power of swallowing; but he occasionally needs it, and is forced to make up by another wit what is lacking in the powers of his throat. You will observe this most frequently in his attempt to take a grass-hopper or locust. A toad will frequently attack an object that is really too large for him to get into his mouth at all. Thus I have seen one attempt a huge catapillar or a sphynx, and I have known of one undertaking a wounded humming bird. In this case it was a perfect failure. But when a toad has transferred the head of a large locust to his stomach and finds the hind legs and tail still protruding from his mouth, he usually turns to the nearest stone or fence and pushes the grasshopper's legs against the obstacle until he has rammed it into his mouth.

WHEN Miss Sadie Aikens, of Reeves, Ga., eloped, the other night, she took with her the family watch-dog. After the marriage ceremony had been performed she wrote a note to her parents acquainting them with the fact and imploring their forgiveness, tied it to the dog's collar, and sent him home.

LOTTA'S FREAK.

She Appears As the Protector of the Dumb Animal and Gets Into a Big Damage Suit.

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—The papers were served yesterday upon Lotta, the well-known actress, in a suit for $50,000 damage instituted by Abraham Samuels, a commercial traveler for a paper house at Cincinnati. The case is a novel one. It appears that one day last week Samuels hired a herdic to carry him from his hotel to the Providence depot, where he was to take a train for the west.

The horse, which was lame and unfit for work, caught the eye of Miss Lotta, who seized the bridle and detained the animal until an officer arrived and ordered it taken back to the stable. Owing to these proceedings Samuels lost his train. He now seeks redress for his loss of time in the manner stated.

MARY SCHULTE.

She May Lose An Arm From the Bite of George Ewing's Vicious Bull Dog.

In the early part of this month a vicious bull dog, owned by Mr. Geo. Ewing attacked and bit about the arm a little girl named Mary Schulte, whose parents lived then in Nebraska. The father of the child complained to the mayor and the dog was ordered shot. Mr. Ewing, protested that the bull dog was goaded into fury by the children constantly teasing him, and removed the dog out of the reach of the marshal.

This morning Dr. C. B. Stemen reported that the little girl's arm was terribly swollen and poisoned from the effects of the dog bite. He said they were making efforts to save it without amputation, but added: "I would not have the arm for all the dogs in the state."

The parents of the afflicted child now reside in Bloomingdale and are poor. It is feared blood poisoning will manifest itself in the child's body, and if it does, not alone her arm but her life is in danger.

It is altogether a lamentable situation, and hydrophobia is not an impossible phase in her case.

Her father, Wm. Schulte, is employed by S. Bash & Co. It is said he will seek damages from Mr. Ewing, who has vast estates.

The New Pythian Laws.

Grand Chancellor W. L. Heiskell has just issued official circulars, calling the attention of subordinate lodges throughout the grand jurisdiction of Indiana to the decisions of Supreme Chancellor Howard Douglas, relating to the general laws (balloting for candidates for admission and the widows' and orphans' fund) requiring that the decisions as promulgated shall stand as the law on and after their reading in open lodge. The grand chancellor also calls special attention to the fact that, beginning with the approaching yearly term, he shall insist upon the enforcement of section 14 of article III, of the general laws, making it compulsory upon the part of all officers of subordinate lodges "to commit to memory their respective portions of the rituals in opening and closing the lodge, and conferring the several grades of rank, within six weeks after being installed; and, on failure to do so, the office shall be declared vacant." He calls upon the district deputies throughout the state to assist him in enforcing the above law.

Business Men's Exchange Topics.

The Business Men's exchange met last evening, with Mr. G. W. Seavy, president pro tem., in the chair, and Mr. J. B. Monning as secretary. Mr. Leopold Freiburger was admitted to membership. Mr. D. N. Foster stated that the committee, consisting of D. N. Foster, Louis Diether and H. C. Paul, had to report the organization of the Foster Folding Bed company. The committee reported that they had seen the council in regard to having them withhold a charter to a new gas company until thoroughly investigated. A standing committee on gas was appointed, consisting of S. M. Foster, G. W. Seavey, F. Eckart and F. Beach.

Mr. S. M. Foster spoke on the feasibility of the city owning the gas works.

The chairman, Mr. Seavy, was instructed to see the authorities of the Nickel Plate with the idea of locating their shops here.

A Lucky Escape.

Yesterday afternoon while Mary, the little daughter of Mrs. Sophia Lee, who lives at No. 21 West Jefferson street, was either playing around or stirring up the fire in a coal heater in one of the rooms, she met with an accident that might have proven fatal. One of the burning coals fell out and set fire to the child's dress. The screams of the little one brought the mother to the room, when she found the child's clothing enveloped in flames. She succeeded in quickly extinguishing them and the little girl luckily escaped without any serious injuries.

TUESDAY'S TRAMP

Made Under Bright Skies and in the Warm Sunlight Tells Its Own Tale In the Column Below.

The three engines on the Nickel Plate gravel trains have been taken off and put into the regular freight service.

The work in the erecting department of the Pittsburg shops is now brisk, as there is a demand for new locomotives.

James Rogers, a bridge foreman on the Nickel Plate, accidentally cut off one of his fingers the other day while handling an adz.

Henry Studor yesterday commenced work on the Nickel Plate road, as fireman on the switch engine running from here to New Haven.

William Cronmiller, one of the night employes at the Pittsburg car shops, was taken suddenly ill while at work last night and conveyed to his home.

Adam Hoffman, an employe in the Bass foundry moulding rooms, who has been sick with rheumatism for some time, has returned to work again.

The car and blacksmith departments of the Pittsburg shops have a large force of men on all night duty now and work is also carried on in the boiler shops.

Otto Benz, of the Bass foundry, who has completed his first year's service in the shops, has been promoted to the charge of a lathe in the machine department.

The clerks in the Pennsylvania company's shops are again busy in tussling with their monthly reports, and are cross when a newspaper reporter attempts to talk to them.

The work of making the connections for water and gas for the new offices at the Bass foundry is now in progress, and they will be ready for occupancy some time during the latter part of December.

Master Mechanic G. L. Potter, of the great Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago shops, is but twenty-seven years of age, but is distinguished by his fine executive ability and proficiency in the important business affairs which pass through his hands.

The engineering department of the Pennsylvania Railroad company reports that all new work for the winter of 1887-8 by that corporation has been ended, and that considerable of it will be put into operation early in the spring. A large amount of the new equipment ordered is for this service.

Fred Schafenecker, an employe of the east end car shops of the Pennsylvania company, was badly injured in the back yesterday afternoon, by a car wheel falling against him, and he had to be conveyed home in a carriage. His injuries are such that he will probably be confined to the house for a month or more. He lives at No. 277 Broadway.

The pleasant face and handsome form of Carl Swain, the popular Western Associated Press operator, now beams behind the desk at the Pittsburg offices, where he receives THE SENTINEL's telegraphic report. Carl is a pleasant fellow almost anywhere you put him, but he does look just the least bit lonesome way down there. He stands the banishment manfully, but pines at times for his old desk in the Aveline house office

Alfred and Charles Beard, who formerly lived in this city, the former having been employed in the electric light works and the latter in the Wabash shops, are now carrying on a machine shop at Napoleon, O., where they have been for some time. The first-named gentleman is quite a genius in his way and has lately made some improvements in both the incandescent and arc electric lights. These improvements they have had patented and at a test recently given them at Napoleon they have proven a great success and superior to any other electric light in use. The citizens of that place have formed a stock company with $10,000 capital and will place the light in many of the business houses and dwellings and also on the streets. The gentlemen seem to have struck a bonanza and will get rich.

E. A. K. HACKETT, Editor and Proprietor

TUESDAY, NOV. 29, 1887.

THE city of Augusta, Me., is now the defendant in twenty-seven suits for false imprisonment brought by members of the Salvation Army. In one of these the damages are laid at several thousands of dollars, the complaint alleging that death resulted from the imprisonment. It is matter of rumor that if these suits are successful two hundred others will be brought against other Maine cities and incorporated towns.

ONE who claims to know of what he is speaking says that sealskins are expensive, not because they are scarce, but because the trade limits the supply. If all the skins that could be taken were poured on the market, the fur would become so common that it would cease to be desired by the wealthy. So the seal catchers agree upon the total number that they will put upon the market, and they make their report to the furriers of London and Paris, who meet each spring and decide upon prices.

CALIFORNIA has some big orchards, and the largest is in the Suisun Valley, and is owned by A. T. Hatch, President of the California Fruit Union. Mr. Hatch has 200 acres in pair trees, 130 in peaches, 70 in apricots, 10 in nectarines, 210 in almonds, 40 in cherries, 100 in plums and prunes, besides 40 acres of currants and gooseberries, and hundreds of lemon and orange trees. Of these acres, 300 bore fruit this season to the amount of 2,000 tons, which brought the owner $100,000. He calculates that when the whole orchard is in full bearing it will produce 8,000 tons of fruit, worth $400,000.

THE Nantes Museum, which is one of the richest departmental museums in France, has just acquired a small casket of no little historical interest—namely: that in which the heart of Anne of Brittany, Queen of France and Navarre, was placed at her death. The casket, which is of massive gold, is made in the shape of a heart, and inside the filagree work on the outside are nine fleur-de-lis and nine trefoil flowers, with the following motto: "Cueur de vertus orne dignement corronne." The casket is attributed to Jean Perreal, painter in ordinary to the King, who was ordered by Francis to paint the Queen's portrait when she died at Blois in 1514.

MR. O'BRIEN, the home-rule Irish editor, is confined in a cell six feet by eight, is fed on bread and water, and is denied the consolation of seeing the prison chaplain. This does not seem to be enough for his jailers. They insist that he shall wear prison garb, exercise with murderers and cutthroats, and do all the other menial and degrading work which malefactors are condemned to do. And all this because he advised some Irish tenants to resist the payment of rack-rents to alien landlords and encouraged others to resist evictions from holdings in which the law of the land now holds that they have an equity. Mr. O'Brien is stoutly resisting the attempt of the Tories to punish persons convicted of political offenses as if they were burglars, murderers, and highwaymen. So far he has succeeded.

Billousness.

We have tested its virtues, personally, and know that for Dyspepsia, Biliousness and Throbbing Headache, it is the best medicine the world ever saw; we tried forty other remedies before Simmons Liver Regulator, but none of them gave us more than temporary relief; the Regulator not only relieved but cured us.—H. H. Jones, Ed. Telegraph and Messenger, Macon, Ga.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. No fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila, Pa.

I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years; I had lost sense of smell entirely for the last fifteen years, and I had almost lost my hearing. My eyes were getting so dim I had to get some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can see to thread as fine a needle as ever I did, my sense of smell is partly restored, and it seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like Ely's Cream Balm for catarrh.—Mrs. E. E. Grimes, 67 Valley St., Rendrill, Perry Co., Ohio.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub wakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

MONROEVILLE.

Auditor Neizer to Erect a Big Grain Elevator Down There--Asked to Enforce the Liquor Law.

We have no more bears.

Natural gas talk is at at end.

Prof. Kimble, of Fort Wayne, is teaching music here.

Auditor Niezer spent Thanksgiving with his family in this city.

Welch & Gerow are slating a new brick school house for Trustee Neff, of Madison township.

Monroeville has had more timber hauled here for shipment this year, than for the last ten years.

Monroeville is greatly in need of a grist mill. Let some enterprising men build one on the stock plan.

Monroeville will have a great building boom in the spring. A number of brick store buildings will be erected.

Mr. E. J. Steward and family, of the Cash Bargain store, are at the bedside of his aged mother, at Fort Wayne.

J. W. Meeks' new residence, on Mulberry street, will, when completed, be one of the finest dwellings in town.

J. W. Edwards, of Monroe Center, Adams county, has located here and in a few days will open up a first class dry goods store in the Heller building.

The temperance union asks the town officials to enforce the 11 o'clock liquor law. The law is twelve years old and this will be the first attempt to enforce it.

Arney Hess and Miss Annie Mercer were married last Wednesday evening by Rev. W. I. Taylor. Miss Mercer is a teacher in the Monroeville public schools.

Last Thursday, at the residence of the bride's mother, near East Liberty, occurred the wedding of Miss Sarah Ridenour to Mr. Ed. A. Waburn, of Van Wert, Rev. Mr. Snider officiating. Miss Ridenour is a sister-in-law of Mr. L. F. Niezer. We extend congratulations.

The Thanksgiving festival given here by the I. O. O. F. members, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, was a grand occasion, which will not be soon forgotten as a gala day. The voting of an elegant reclining rocking chair to the most popular merchant, was awarded to our worthy townsman, Mr. D. S. Redelsheimer. The proceeds of the festival amounted to over $300.

Last Thursday evening, at the residence of Mr. Marquis Ridenour, one of Madison township's most prosperous and industrious farmers, occurred the marriage of his accomplished daughter, Mary, to Mr. John C. Hauk, a highly respectable young man, of the same township. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. O. Bowen, in the presence of a large concourse of relatives and intimate friends. After the usual congratulations a reception was given. We extend our best wishes to the happy young couple.

J. B. Niezer recently purchased the Langard property, at the corner of Main and Railroad streets, with the intention of erecting there, in the spring, a large and substantial elevator and storage house. The plans of the building are being made and the material will soon be on the ground. C. S. Ridenour, the present popular and obliging grain buyer for Johns & Co., will manage the business for Mr. Niezer. We are told that if a commodious building can be had, they will commence buying grain this winter. The storage room, when completed, will be used to store baled hay.

To imagine that the treatment of Constipation consists merely in unloading the bowels. The medicine must not only act as a purgative, but be a tonic as well, and not produce after its use greater costiveness. This is what Simmons Liver Regulator always does.

"As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels."—W. J. McElroy, Macon, Ga.

Believe us, when we tell you that most of the despondent feeling (the blues) is the effect of a Torpid Liver, Indigestion, Weakness of Stomach, and Nervousness. A dose of Simmons Liver Regulator invariably relieves, cures and prevents a re-occurrence.

"I find Simmons Liver Regulator, very safe, harmless and valuable as a family medicine, and have used it for any disorder of the system and have found it to act like a charm, and I believe that if it was used in time, it would prove a great preventive of sickness. I have often recommended it to my friends, and shall continue to do so."—Rev. James M. Rollins, Fairfield, Va.

Simmons Liver Regulator is given with safety and with the happiest results, in almost any ailment, to the most delicate infant as well as to the adult. For all diseases in which a laxative, alterative, or purgative is needed, it will give the most perfect satisfaction. It is the cheapest, purest and best Family Medicine in the world.

Price $1. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by J. H. Zeilin & Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

The treatment of many thousands of cases of those chronic weaknesses and distressing ailments peculiar to females, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has afforded a vast experience in nicely adapting and thoroughly testing remedies for the cure of woman's peculiar maladies.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the outgrowth, or result, of this great and valuable experience. Thousands of testimonials, received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the more aggravated and obstinate cases which had baffled their skill, prove it to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women. It is not recommended as a "cure-all," but as a most perfect Specific for woman's peculiar ailments.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. For morning sickness, or nausea, from whatever cause arising, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia and kindred symptoms, its use, in small doses, will prove very beneficial.

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhea, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, accompanied with "internal heat."

As a regulator and promoter of functional action, at that critical period of change from girlhood to womanhood, "Favorite Prescription" is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results. It is equally efficacious and valuable in its effects when taken for those disorders and derangements incident to that later and most critical period, known as "The Change of Life."

"Favorite Prescription," when taken in connection with the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and small laxative doses of Dr. Pierce's Purgative Pellets (Little Liver Pills), cures Liver, Kidney and Bladder diseases. Their combined use also removes blood taints, and abolishes cancerous and scrofulous humors from the system.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

Large bottles (100 doses) $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

For large, illustrated Treatise on Diseases of Women (160 pages, paper-covered), send ten cents in stamps. Address,

IDE JONES' BIG B'AR FIGHT.

Uncle Abel's Story of a Great Attack of Bear Meat Away Back in '26.

[Harrisburg (Pa.) Sun.]

Uncle Abel Parmentere from "way up the North Branch," tells the following interesting story of an old-time bear fight:

"Ide's big b'ar fight come off on Washington's birthday, 1826. Ide an' his dog Andy, went out that day a purpose for b'ar. Tha had been a big blow down o' timber the fall afore in the neighborhood o' Biar's Creek,' whar Ide lived, and pooty much the hull of the woods in the deestric' had been tore up by the roots and tossed about permisc'us. Ide and Andy struck in fur Biar's Creek, an' the fust thing they know'd they rammed slam bang ag'in a big windfall. Tha wan't no way 'round it, and so Ide says to Andy th' they'd whale right on through it, but the nigher they got to t'other side the further they seemed to be away, the windfall was so uncommon bad, an' they were gettin' pooty clus on to tuckered out 'fore they got the best of it. Arter they got the best o' the down timber they struck another piece o' luck right away, for they found an acre or two o' the pootiest crop o' briars and brambles ez ever grow'd ten feet high, an' twisted itself together like a fish net. But tha wa'n't no such thing ez humpin' it back over that windfall, and so Ide an' Andy shet their eyes an' pulled ahead for the open kentry. They had navigated through the smilin' garden o' prickers an' stickers fer nigh onto a miled, w'en, to add to the pleasures of the sitiwation, the dog began to bristle up and growl. Then Ide know'd th't tha was business to be did somewhar tharbouts, an' th't the business was b'ars, fer Andy never wasted no time bristlin' up nor spent his wind in growlin' unless tha was the smell o' b'ar in the air, an' the smell o' b'ar never played 'round Andy's nose without him a drawin' some on it in.

"Wall, b'ar it was, an' no mistake, for jist ahead o' Ide an' Andy an' not more'n six foot away riz one b'ar bigger'n a yearlin' calf an' another un' 'bout half ez big. Ide know'd by the way the big b'ar growled an' knashed its teeth th't it were a she one an' that she had a family o' new cubs tucked away in a log or hole in the ground some'rs in adjacent parts, and that she had it in her head that Ide and Andy was picknickin' in that briar patch jest to steal them cubs, an' that she was thar to break up the picnic. Now, the matter o' havin' a hip-lock or a back holt, or a stand-up an' knock-down with a b'ar or two was a trifle that Ide Jones was allus a hankerin' arter, and but the havin' of it mixed up with down timber, briar bushes, an' brambles was a leetle too much of a pleasant prospect, an' Ide wished he was back hum chawin' gingernuts an' swiggin' cider. But thar he was. Thar had to be a fight or a foot-race. The course wan't laid out for much of a foot-race an' so Ide concluded to stay thar an' take the chances on some o' the boys running' onto his bones in the spring. Lookin' around with a come-sinner-come-an'-view-the-ground-whar-you-must-surely-lie sort of a look he prepared to take his dose.

"'Twixt the time th't the b'ars first gladdened the eyes of Ide an' Andy an the time th't the ol' she one bu'sted through the thick briars at 'em wa'n't more'n ten seconds. Ide didn't hev time to even club with his gun, but w'en the ol' b'ar clapped her two paws on Ide's two shoulders he hauled off an' pasted her a good un plumb in the eye, and the fight was in. Andy tackled the little b'ar an' kep' him from interferin' in the muss, an' gettin him on the run, kep' him thar. Ide ripped out his huntin' knife, an' with a slashin' an' a gashin', a snarlin' an' a snappin', a chawin' an' a clawin' an' a rollin' an' a plowin', while hair an' meat an' rags an' dirt an' stone flew in the air till the sun was hid, the b'ar an' Ide cavorted around in that rich bottom o' brambles an' logs for mor'n fifteen minutes, fust one on top o' the heap an' then t'other. Then Ide got mad. He found the top rib of ol' Mrs. B'ar an' slid his knife clean up to the handle 'longside of it, an' then the b'ar turned the soles o' her feet to'ward the firmament on high, an' her young uns was orphans."

Money in Mines.

Queen Elizabeth leased all her royal rights to a company of mining adventurers, and under license from this company the well known Hugh Myddleton realized a large fortune by successfully mining for silver in Cardiganshire. This fortune, it is said, was in a great measure expended by Sir Hugh in bringing the New River to London; but the enterprising Welshman went on mining to the end of his life, and no doubt with tolerable success. At any rate his successor, Thomas Bushel, drew a large fortune from the same mines and obtained the royal permission to establish a mint in the Castle of Aberystwith, where from 1638 to 1642 silver pieces were coined, which are still tolerably plentiful in the cabinets of collectors. So great, indeed, was the value of the bullion raised that Bushel obtained a grant of the Isle of Lundy as a storehouse for the treasure; and when the Civil War broke out Bushel was able to show his gratitude to the King by clothing the whole of the royal army in the West, as well as by lending the King the sum of forty thousand pounds in specie. Eventually Bushel sank nearly the whole of his fortune in supporting the royal cause; and the most productive veins of ore being now exhausted, Bushel abandoned his Cardiganshire mines and went prospecting on the Mendip Hills, led to this course, it is said, by some old prophecy of the enchanter, Merlin.

Some years later valuable veins of ore were discovered at Gogerddan, near Aberystwith, on the estate of Sir Carberry Price, and in the year 1690 an act of Parliament was obtained in the interest of landed proprietors, by which the ancient claims of the Crown were abrogated, and only a royalty retained upon the product of gold mines. On the act receiving the Royal assent Sir Carberry Price rode straight from Whitehall to his home in Cardiganshire, accomplishing his journey in forty-eight hours, and bonfires were lighted on all the hills and general rejoicing instituted, in celebration of the event.—All the Year Round.

Shall We Plant Native or Foreign Trees?

We feel justified in adding to these general statements a word of strong recommendation in favor of native as against foreign, or at least as against European trees. At the best the latter are uncertain in almost every case, while the former have an inborn and a well-proved title to be trusted. The most successful ornamental planting that has ever been done in America shows its results in the streets of such towns as Stockbridge, Great Barrington, Salem, and New Haven, and was the work of men who went to the forest and not to the nursery for their infant elms and maples. Certainly our more recently planted parks offer small promise of a like maturity of beauty with their European oaks and ashes, their Scotch and Austrian pines, in almost as deplorable a state as their Norway spruces. When not ornamental but economic plantations are in question, past experience tells very strongly against European trees, while the evidence of recent experiment with native trees—as in the plantations of indigenous conifers in eastern Massachusetts—is one of the most encouraging kind.—Century Magazine.

Syrup of Figs.

Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Co., San Francisco, Cal., is Nature's own true laxative. This pleasant California liquid fruit remedy may be had of Theime and Gross, druggists, large bottles at fifty cents or one dollar. It is the most pleasant, prompt, and effective remedy known to cleanse the system; to act on the Liver, Kidneys, and bowels gently yet thoroughly; to dispel Headaches, Colds and Fevers; to cure Constipation, Indigestion, and kindred ills.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Cast His First Vote for Jefferson.

Josiah Graston, an old gentleman residing in Belton County, Texas, is certainly deserving of mention. He was born at Lovelady Crossing, on the Catawba River, Burke County, North Carolina, in the year 1778. When a lad he went with his parents to Tennessee, and resided in that State until the year 1865, when he went to Texas and settled there. Mr. Graston is proud of the fact that his first vote was cast for Thomas Jefferson for President, and he has been voting the straight Democratic ticket ever since. He gets about very well. He lives almost entirely in the past, recounting scenes and incidents of seventy and eighty years ago as though they belonged to last year.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

TUESDAY, NOV. 29, 1887.

THE CITY NEWS.

Home lodge, P. and A. M., will hold a special meeting to-night.

Trenkley & Scherzinger are handsomely decorating the interior of their jewelry store.

McNish, Johnson & Slavin's minstrels have been dissolved in New York, owing to disagreements.

C. A. Banks, proprietor of the Paulding Gazette, has made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors.

J. R. McCurdy, the tobacco salesman, has returned to the city, and will again make his headquarters here.

The late Robert Archibald, of Lafayette, was made an Odd Fellow February 11, 1848. His son resides in this city.

The Lafayette Courier says: "Mrs. Frank Baker, of Fort Wayne, is a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Schilling."

Mr. Charley Ryan, the young truckman, who recently fractured an ankle so badly, is out again and able to attend to business as usual.

Root & Co., had a special sale of silks satins, plushes and velvets yesterday and the great store was thronged from door to door by the ladies.

M. F. Kelley, representing the New Record, a splendid Catholic paper, published at Indianapolis, is in the city, the guest of Postmaster Kaough.

The Baptist church choir has been reorganized, with Prof. W. S. Heath as leader. Music is to be a great feature of worship at Rev. Mr. Northrop's church.

Mr. J. W. French, editor of the Lafayette Journal, was in the city over Sunday. Mr. French will soon wed an accomplished Fort Wayne lady, it is said.

The Leichner heirs talk of quitting the saloon business at the corner of Calhoun and Columbia streets. Their rent was raised this week from $1,000 to $1,600 a year.

James Lillie, of Kankakee, Ill., arrived in the city last night. He is on his way to Metropolitan, Mich., where, with his brother, Mr. John Lillie, they have a big iron ore mine.

The Choral union met last night. Some of the members seem to think the organization will not thrive. Its president, Hon. Charles McCulloch, has not yet attended its sessions.

Mr. R. W. T. DeWald returned from Detroit this morning. He saw the Henley company play "Deacon Brodie" and pronounces it the best theatrical attraction now on the road.

Orth Stein, the rascally Lafayette newspaper reporter, known best by his exploit at Kansas City, while engaged by Nelson & Morse, is in jail at Pittsburg for forging a bank check and victimizing a number of citizens under the alias of John Armytage.

The Fort Wayne Curling club will hold the first of a series of winter evening entertainments, at Centlivre's cafe, to-morrow evening. They will have a little supper, enchanting Scotch songs, and hope to have a good time outside, if the river ice is thick enough.

The second number of the Fort Wayne Tribune fairly bristles with temperance and religious editorials from Rev. M. L. Blaney and Dr. J. W. Younge. They are going to enlarge the paper from four to five columns. Its editors lecture on the topics named when invited to do so.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger is at Nashville, Tenn., assisting in the consecration of Bishop Scannell. His chancellor, Rev. J. F. Lang, is delivering a series of lectures in Rt. Rev. Bishop Gilmore's diocese in Ohio. Father Lang is a very interesting lecturer and a brilliant pulpit orator.

An interesting religious revival has been in progress at the Simpson M. E. church for some time and the meetings are growing in power and good every night. A number of persons have been convicted of their sins and have publicly professed a faith in Christ. The pastor, Rev. C. H. Wilkinson, is eloquent in the presentation of the gospel to his hearers and is doing much to build up the church in this city.

With the reorganization of the Wabash and the Wabash Western consolidation the Wabash east of the river will again come into full control of the entire property, and Frank Chandler will doubtless become general passenger agent of the entire system, which passenger men say means a general turning over of officials and agents on the line east of the river which were put there by Receiver McNulta.

The savings fund feature, recently established by the Pennsylvania company, is meeting with some opposition. Outside influences are brought to bear on the employes, which, in some cases, causes a hesitancy, it is stated, on the part of the employes to invest their savings, as proposed, while others feel that their money is much safer in the hands of an official board like that of the Pennsylvania lines than in a savings bank. No one doubts that the intentions of the officers of the road are good, and that in this particular case the plan is a safe and prudent one.

The Emily Soldene burlesque and novelty company appear at the Temple opera house to-morrow evening, in a benefit performance for Charley Borg Wayne, a Fort Wayne boy. The Chicago Tribune says: "The Soldene is in the vigor of youth, knows how to please and always succeeds. Her principal advertisement this season is M'lle Sara, the highest kind of a kicker. It is said that this most elastic beauty can speak seven different languages, and those who saw her Sunday night are willing to make oath that she can kick in seven different directions with both feet at the same time."

Delightful moonlight nights are in order again.

Mr. S. Goodman, of Goodman & Son, is at Chicago.

D. E. Kauffman, of Payne, Ohio, was in the city yesterday.

The Robinson house registered thirty-five people yesterday.

Market Master Rops collected $22.30 during the last month.

The "One of the Bravest" company is stopping at the Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lightfoot are visiting relatives at Falmouth, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Owens left last night for Indianapolis, to visit a day or two.

Mr. A. J. Stewart, of Bluffton, roadmaster of the Muncie route, is in the city.

Hon. James H. Rice, of Indianapolis, was a guest of the Aveline house last night.

Mrs. Meade C. Williams is in the city visiting her mother, Mrs. Jesse L. Williams.

A new German building and loan association will be organized at the Custer house to-night.

The Zollinger Gattling Gun squad will meet at the Robinson house to-morrow evening.

Mr. George W. Ewing is at Racine, Wis., to purchase a brace of bird dogs at the kennel there.

Carl Siemon, of the postoffice, is doing honors over the arrival of a sweet girl baby at his home.

Henry Krohne won the horse which was lotteried off by Rudy Rinewald at Joe Douglas' place.

Franklin Greenwell et al. sue Seraphin Coeurderoy et al. to recover $2,500 on a note and mortgage.

Don't fail to witness the great fire scene and hear McCarthay's new songs, at the Academy to-night.

C. F. Krah has been granted a permit to build an addition to his brick house on lot 7, Ewing's addition, to cost $600.

Mr. Mayer L. Graff returned last evening from a business visit to Toledo, where Mr. Graff has property interests.

The street hackmen have taken a new departure. They now make the rounds of the hotels, charging 25 cents fare to depots.

The Morton club will not hold a reception until Wednesday of next week. The entertainment this week is cancelled.

Michael Howly was a solitary victim at police court this morning and he is boarding out a fine for drunkenness at the jail.

Rev. Kucher has made arrangements to send the four children of the late Mrs. Gottlieb Meyer to the orphans' home, at Rochester

Miss Julia Casanave, daughter of Mr. F. D. Casanave, has returned from Chicago, accompanied by her friend, Miss Julia Cleary.

The Fort Wayne Jenney Electric Light company will probably illuminate Plymouth, Ind., through the influence of M. W. Simons.

Mrs. J. H. Bass gave an elaborate reception, last evening, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Walker, at her home on West Berry street.

Miss Kate Haley, who has been visiting friends in the city for the last six weeks, returned to her home at Solomon City, Kan., yesterday.

Judge R. S. Taylor returned Sunday night from Boston, whither he had gone in the interest of the Fort Wayne Jenney Electric Light company.

The sewing society of the St. John's Lutheran church will meet on Thursday afternoon, at the residence of Mrs. Fred Boltz, in Bloomingdale.

Seats for "One of the Bravest," which opens at the Academy to-night, are going like hot cakes. The piece made a great hit here last season.

Officer Humbrecht last night arrested George Johnson and Fannie Prizo, illicit lovers, and they paid their little fines at police court this morning.

Mr. Lucien E. Walker and his bride, nee Maud Fisher, left this morning for their California home. Mr. Walker has palatial estates on the Pacific coast.

The curling and quoiting club will give their annual banquet at Centlivre's to-morrow, and at that time arrangements will be made for a winter program.

Wm. Cronin, the funniest Irish comedian on earth, will appear in his great character of Widow Crogan, in "One of the Bravest," at the Academy to-night.

The case of Boegel against Roth & Kellar will come up for hearing in the circuit court Friday. Boegel seeks $10,000 damages for an injury sustained while in their employ.

The Washington correspondent of the Indianapolis Journal states that the skeleton of Thomas Coombs, a noted Washington scientist, had been found near Fairfax and the gentleman's murder is suspected. Deceased was a cousin on J. M. Coombs and Thomas A. Coombs, of this city.

Miss Rebecca Levi, of Huntington, who has been in the city for a few days visiting Miss Rose Schlesinger, will be married on Wednesday of next week to Mr. Lewis Jacoby, a prominent young business man of Des Moines, Iowa. The young lady is well-known in this city and a number of her friends here will be present at the wedding. The young gentleman has been in the city since Thanksgiving day and left yesterday in company with Miss Levi for her home at Huntington.

Salvation Oil cures rheumatism in from 12 to 28 hours. Swellings and bruises in a few hours. All pains and aches almost immediately upon application. Price twenty-five cents a bottle.

A sure winner in the tussle with Jack Frost is the man who is equipped with the warm lined overshoes sold at

THE HOOSIER.

Five persons in F. M. Cherry's family were poisoned by eating canned tomatoes.

"Deacon Brodie," a great melodrama, at the Temple opera house to-night.

The board of trustees of the Feeble-minded school meet at Richmond to-morrow.

Moritz Zellar has been removed to the city hospital from his home on Gay street for better treatment.

"One of the Bravest" will open a two night's engagement at the Academy to-night. A grand family matinee will be given to-morrow.

Sheriff Viberg has sold the saloon of Statler, corner of Washington and Calhoun streets, to Edward Glaser. Glaser is Statler's father-in-law.

Miss Mary Christie has resigned her position as teacher at Wayne township school No. 5. Mr. Mason has been named as her successor by Trustee Hilbrecht.

The ladies of the St. Paul M. E. church will give a social at the residence of Rev. Cooper, 54 Walton avenue, on Thursday evening of this week. The public is invited.

Mr. J. G. Lasarre, of Paris, did not lecture at the Academy last night, owing to the fact that no people were present. He will lecture at that play house next Monday evening on "America's Greatness."

Miss Princess Clark, a young lady who formerly lived in this city, was married on Thanksgiving day at the home of her father, Mr. W. A. Clark, at Van Wert, Ohio, to Mr. E. C. Long, a Kentuckian.

Rev. J. H. Bayless, D. D., of Cincinnati, will dedicate the St. Paul M. E. church Sunday, Dec. 18. Dr. Bayless is one of the strongest men in the west, and will be a prominent candidate for bishop before the general conference next May.

Messrs. H. G. Grafle, B. S. O'Connor, R. C. Bell, Charles McCulloch, A. Hattersley and W. W. Worthington went to Montpelier yesterday to look at the gas fields. The gentlemen named will pipe gas to Fort Wayne under the terms of the ordinance now before the council.

The piano recital by Mme. Fanny Bloomfield, on the 1st of December will be a revelation to our citizens. When her brilliant career is at its zenith, it will be a credit to our city to be able to say that we entertained this brilliant musical star, recognizing her genius from the first.

"One of the Bravest," which opens at the Academy to-night, is backed by a New York capitalist who is spending a great deal of money to make the production first class. The several strong characters are entrusted to capable people, among whom may be mentioned Charles McCarthy, Wm. Cronen, Geo. Reynolds, Lottie Blair, Marion Percy and others.

Mr. Edward J. Henly and his splendid English company, will present "Deacon Brodie; or the Double Life" at the Temple to-night. The story is from the pen of that gifted writer, Robert Louis Stevenson, with Mr. Henly in the title role. This is an attraction THE SENTINEL can cheerfully recommend and urge for it a big attendance. There is no finer company on the road.

Mrs. Strohn, a widow, and Mrs. Woods, a divorced wife, lived on East Columbia street. Mrs. Strohn reported this morning that Mrs. Woods left for parts unknown and abandoned her three children, ranging in ages from two to twelve years. The youngest child, too, is sick. Trustee Hilbrecht sent it to the city hospital and will transfer the two other children to the poor house. Their mother was too poor to support them and fled from the prospect of starvation.

Misfortune seems to rest heavily upon Mr. Jacob Hill, the ticket agent of the Wabash road at Aboite, this county. He runs a store at that place in connection with his railroad business and a few weeks ago was completely burned out. The news reached this city last night that his son, who is employed in St. Louis, Mo., had fallen from the roof of house on which he was working and had been killed. The accident occurred yesterday afternoon and the news was sent from this city this morning to Mr. Hill at Aboite.

The indications are very favorable for weather within the next month. Our readers will do well to prepare for it by fitting their feet with warm shoes and overshoes. We confidently predict that the best goods and prices are to be found at

A Fire in Salvadore Peltier's Grocery Store—Personal Gossip—News Notes.

Henry Meyers has a new horse.

Melville Mason, of Fort Wayne, spent Thanksgiving with his parents.

Louis Girard, of Denver, Col., is visiting his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Caps moved to Kansas City, Wednesday, where they expect to make their permanent home.

Wilson Bell and H. D. Dickerson, of Markle, Ind., spent Sunday with their many friends.

Frederick Paulsen has accepted a section foremanship on the Nickel Plate, near McComb, O.

August Koellinger, of Fort Wayne, spent Sunday with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Kemp, of Fort Wayne, were the guests of H. Meyers, Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Rogers and daughter, Jessie, left for Huntington Thursday, where they are visiting friends.

James Leahy is moving his house from the railroad ground north of the Wabash depot, to one of N. Spitzenberg's lots.

The social club gave their second hop in the G. A. R. hall Wednesday evening. A large crowd attended and had a very pleasant time. Stellhorn's orchestra furnished the music.

Friday morning about 6:30 the fire bell called out our citizens. Fire was discovered in the grocery store of S. Peltier, but was soon got under control by the willing aid of citizens. Fire damaged the building and stock to the extent of about fifty dollars. The fire is supposed to have started from a cigar thrown in a spitoon containing sawdust. The fire laddies did excellent work. "They got there."

NOW AND THEN.

Y. M. C. A.

An Interesting Meeting Held Last Evening.

The monthly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. took place last night at the reading room of the railroad department. The association extended a call to R. M. Hays as secretary of the city association. Mr. Hays is taking the matter under advisement and will report in one week. He will not leave the railroad department until a good secretary is secured to take his place. Secretary Newton reported the following detailed statement of the receipts and expenses of the fair and festival:
